PLANT-QUARANTINE IMPORT RESTRICTIONS

OF THE

KINGDOM OF ITALY

Imported Plants Subject to Phylloxera Restrictions

Since live plants, parts of plants, seeds, etc., not specifically prohibited entry into Italy, remain subject to the phylloxera restrictions (p. 9, B. E. P. Q.--469), the following paragraph should be added to the first item under the caption "Importation Restricted," on page 4 of B. E. P. Q.--469.

> "However, such plants and plant products are subject to the phylloxera restrictions set forth on page 9, namely, each shipment must be accompanied by a shipper's declaration and a phylloxera certificate; the latter can be issued by a State inspection service only."
